RESPONDING TO THE CALL

2020 ANNUAL REPORT

“The people of Spartanburg have been very loyal to us since we started our business here 60 years ago. They educated our children, worked hard to build a special company, visited our restaurants, and blessed us with many wonderful friendships. It just makes sense that we do what we can to support the community we love.”

In a year defined by its challenges, the Foundation helped its community respond to crisis while furthering its long-term work on racial equity and capacity-building. The Foundation is poised for even more success in 2021 thanks to investments that will amplify its convening power and its commitment to partnership and collaboration.”

Letter from the Chairman and President

Responding to the call began as a story of relief on February 6th, 2020, when an EF1 tornado tore through Spartanburg. Immediately, The Spartanburg County Foundation responded with relief efforts for nonprofits responding to individuals impacted by the disaster. It was that relief response that prepared us for what we could not have predicted a month later...COVID-19.

For the Foundation, this was a call to action...a time when our services were needed the most. We must maintain the flow of philanthropic dollars from the Foundation and our donors when they are needed the most. We must maintain the flow of grants back into the community, and we must move to communicate in new methods with our community to assure, comfort, and promote the work of so many during a time of need.

The Spartanburg County Disaster Relief Fund gave immediate resources to nonprofits. Our Trustees at the Foundation worked with staff to move to a rapid response grantmaking effort solely dedicated to the COVID-19 recovery efforts.

Despite the unpleasantness of COVID-19, we have seen an increased community spirit and neighbors wanting to find ways to help others. We have seen the work of racial equity emerging from a turbulent year for our country, where we understand through disaggregated data the disparate impacts on the black and Latino communities. Let's continue to put our words into action. Together, we can seek greater understanding, find opportunities for positive change, and drive transformation towards a more just and compassionate future for all our residents.

A Reflection on The Spartanburg County Foundation Brand

One of the defining characteristics of The Spartanburg County Foundation is innovative leadership. It stems from the Foundation's rich history of innovation – from its creation in 1943 as the state's first community foundation, through decades of countless investments in technology and philanthropic innovations.

ORIGINS OF THE LOGO

During the 1950s, The Spartanburg County Foundation adopted a "reservoir" to illustrate the functions of a community foundation. Founder Walter Montgomery drew upon the engineering innovations of the day by stating,

"As truly representing the functions of a foundation... as the great dams and power plants that cover our land, and the impounded waters flow through the turbines... so the impounded contributions, small and large, in the reservoir of benevolent funds flow into the channels of county needs through the gates of education, health, recreation, and welfare."

The Foundation's logo was inspired by this metaphor, using a fountain to symbolize the "flow of benevolent funds" into the Spartanburg community. While this historical reference continues to serve as an important reminder to the Foundation, its origins have become less known to the community at large.

LEGACY LOGO

EVOLVED LOGO & VARIATIONS

2021 will see the introduction of a new brand system for the Foundation, designed to be more flexible with today's myriad of communication methods.

EVOLVING THE BRAND

In this spirit of heritage and innovation, 2021 will see the introduction of a new brand system for the Foundation. This collection of brand elements and materials will help establish more cohesive and flexible communications from the Foundation as we continue to innovate and evolve.

The most prominent feature of the new brand system is an evolution to the Foundation logo. This refreshed logo has been thoughtfully designed to retain an unmistakable connection to the Foundation's heritage while providing more clarity and flexibility for today's wide variety of outreach. More importantly, its many variations will prepare us for unknown uses that are yet to come in the future.

For over 75 years, The Spartanburg County Foundation has evolved, innovated, and adapted to the community's needs. Despite those many changes and challenges, the Foundation has – and always will – remain focused on being a philanthropy catalyst that serves our community as both a fiduciary and community leader. We believe this new brand system will provide a meaningful reflection of those efforts for years to come.

Robert Hett Chapman III Center for Philanthropy

A Place For Everyone

In 2020, The Spartanburg County Foundation celebrated the completion of The Robert Hett Chapman III Center for Philanthropy – South Carolina’s first center dedicated to philanthropic services.

This breakthrough facility contains 15,000 square feet of collaborative, multi-use space – all designed to foster collaboration, spark ideas, and facilitate action in the community. Beyond its inviting architecture, The Center’s most striking features are flexibility and availability to all who need it.

THOUGHTFUL SPACES

Through thoughtfully designed spaces, The Center caters to a myriad of needs from research to collaboration to convening and celebrations. Structured spaces such as the Innovation Lab offer a range of strategic uses from community conversations to film screenings and discussions in a classroom-style setting. Nonprofits can use this space for training and other capacity-building efforts. Connectivity options, including live streaming technology, allow meetings and presentations to have unlimited reach.

More collaborative spaces such as The Community Room provide a casual place for convening and discussing philanthropic ideas – or just to enjoy a cup of coffee and socialize. These informal, spontaneous conversations can spark ideas that lead to bold steps in addressing the issues and challenges in our community. The Center’s flexible spaces, such as The Gallery of Philanthropy, are already being used to host live-streamed productions, conduct meetings, and share stories of philanthropy and giving through a number of interactive displays.

The Nonprofit Partner in Residence will create an opportunity for a large nonprofit or a national/regional funder to be immersed in a southern community that has many great assets, but also sees a lot of need.

DONOR DIVERSITY

Many spaces throughout The Center are directly supported by a diverse collection of individuals, companies, and organizations through gifts, both large and small. Many supporters are first-time donors to the Foundation – inspired by The Center’s mission and potential for positive impact in Spartanburg County. This geographic, economic, and generational diversity of donors is a shining example of how philanthropic innovation can bolster community support.

As a gathering place where members from all walks of life can come and consider the role of philanthropy in the life of Spartanburg County, The Robert Hett Chapman III Center for Philanthropy is truly a community asset for everyone.

We hope to see you here soon.

CENTER FOR PHILANTHROPY IN SC

“As a small business owner in Spartanburg, it is imperative to support and commit to our community. Spartanburg has supported Wingstop for over twelve years. It was an honor and privilege to donate to The Robert Hett Chapman III Center for Philanthropy. As it is written in Luke chapter 12 “to whom much is given, much is required.”

Donor

Legacy of Giving

The Spartanburg County Foundation's data-driven approach to philanthropy serves a key role in establishing trust with donors. This level of trust often extends beyond one-time donations to generational giving, which has been vital to the Foundation's efforts as a catalyst for effective, positive change in Spartanburg. Many of our legacy donors unrestricted their funds in 2020, allowing the Foundation to help the community's unprecedented hardships and rapidly changing needs.

THE BALMER FOUNDATION

One such example of legacy giving is the generosity of the Balmer family. Monty Mullen continues the legacy of her sister and brother-in-law, Lucia and Hans Balmer. In February of 2020, prior to the pandemic, an EF-1 tornado struck the Spartanburg community, leaving large areas of damage and destruction. Shortly thereafter, the COVID-19 pandemic took hold, bringing economic strain to organizations unseen in a lifetime. Monty and the Balmer Foundation Board recognized this unprecedented time of need as an opportunity to invest in the community outside of their typical areas of interest.

"Community nonprofits needed our help, but it wasn't just the ones Hans and Lucia had designated. It was the community as a whole. We had never seen anything like it, and we wanted to do whatever we could to help."

Monty Mullen
Fundholder

The longstanding trust between the Foundation and Monty's family facilitated the decision for the Balmer Foundation Board to align its investment with The Community Fund. This unrestricted fund was established to help the Spartanburg community at large in times of disaster. This flexibility of giving allows The Spartanburg County Foundation to use data-driven decisions to identify how funds can be dispersed to provide the most impact during times of need.

THE WARDLAW FAMILY

Saunders Wardlaw McCollum is no stranger to the inner workings of community philanthropy. Her grandfather James Wardlaw served as a Foundation Trustee in the 1950s, followed by her father, John Wardlaw, who also served as a Foundation trustee in the 1980s. Saunders often suggests, "The Spartanburg County Foundation is in our family DNA."

For generations, the Wardlaw family has invested in Spartanburg both financially and through volunteer work, helping those most in need. As the pandemic unfolded, Saunders knew that area nonprofits, organizations, and the community at large were struggling but was unsure how she could provide help in the most meaningful way. She placed her trust in the

John and Putsy Wardlaw

Foundation through unrestricted funds, allowing mission-specific support to areas of need as they unfolded. This level of impact could not have been possible without the flexibility her decision enabled.

"I am blessed to be part of a family with a long legacy of philanthropy. My parents, John and Putsy Wardlaw, were invested in the Spartanburg community because they loved it so much."

Saunders Wardlaw McCollum

Fundholder

THE FEATHERSTON FAMILY

John Featherston and his wife, Lisa, continue the legacy of John's parents throughout the Southeast and beyond, dedicating their contributions to lifting up marginalized communities through grants, scholarships, and promoting education.

After the tornado and throughout the pandemic, they saw a greater need to give back to their community. While the Featherston's previous contributions were specific, they knew unrestricted giving was the best way to help continue their legacy.

"We trust the Foundation and want to make funds accessible to the community. I have been very confident in the Foundation's ability to take unrestricted giving and direct the funds to the areas they are most needed."

John and Lisa Featherston

Fundholders

The Spartanburg County Foundation is grateful for the unrestricted giving by these generous families and many others. Their decisions allowed the Foundation to make proactive, timely, and data-driven decisions in addressing our community's greatest areas of need.

THE DECK FAMILY

"At our core, we believe it is far better to GIVE than to receive. At the onset of 2020, we began having conversations about updating our charitable plans. Without knowledge of the impending global pandemic and its effect on our lives, we chose to establish the Deck Family Fund at The Spartanburg County Foundation. With the assistance of Troy Hanna, we decided the Donor-Advised Fund was the appropriate vehicle to facilitate our philanthropy, without impacting our current finances. After surviving the uncertainty of COVID-19, we have a deeper understanding of the significance of creating a plan for our assets that will continue supporting our community beyond our lifetime."

Avery and Dawn Deck

Fundholders, Planned Giving Legacy Society

Responding To The Call COVID-19

"The Spartanburg County Foundation's model of passing gear philanthropy includes philanthropy as relief in which resources are focused on situations where addressing immediate needs is essential."

Troy Hanna
President and CEO of The Spartanburg County Foundation

The guiding principles of The Spartanburg County Foundation's mission, vision, values, capitals, and 'passing gear philanthropy' are collectively referred to as our Northstar. More than a collection of words, it serves as a central and tangible point of focus for everyone at the Foundation, ensuring a cohesive and collective approach to improving Spartanburg. As the COVID-19 global pandemic unfolded, not only was our Northstar put to the test, but it proved critical in guiding the Foundation's decision-making.

NEW GRANT MAKING EFFORTS

As the Foundation studied the efforts of other community foundations around the country, it was apparent that relief efforts to combat the challenges and disparities caused by the pandemic were largely falling on nonprofit organizations. The Foundation was prepared for such a scenario through a core component of our Northstar – 'passing gear philanthropy' which includes a model for using philanthropy as relief.

In May 2020, the Foundation launched the COVID-19 Grant Opportunity to support nonprofits serving communities disproportionately impacted by the pandemic. By early fall, over $225,000 was awarded from the Foundation to ten local nonprofit organizations. These grants enabled offices to reopen to the community, improve the cadence of community food distributions, provide assistance to special needs children and their parents, and create transitional housing opportunities for people in need.

FACILITATING OUTREACH, CONVERSATION & PUBLIC HEALTH

In support of the Foundation's mission to encourage community engagement, REAL TALK Forums were established in conjunction with the Mary L. Thomas Award for Civic Leadership and Community Change. This open forum became a critical method of discourse, providing a local voice to current events impacting our communities.

Working with thought leaders from area organizations, the Foundation crafted a series of talks that encouraged discussion and promoted action for addressing racial equity in the community. Each session engaged local and regional experts on various topics, including the impact of COVID-19 on minority and immigrant communities, racial healing, and positive youth development, among others. In addition to structured discussions, attendees had an opportunity to participate in live Q&A sessions with the panelists.

Strong partnerships became even more vital in other areas of the Foundation's mission, including a response to community needs. As COVID-19 cases began to rise in the community, the Foundation partnered with ReGenesis Healthcare and the Spartanburg Regional Healthcare System to provide no-cost COVID-19 testing to area residents.

POST-COVID RECOVERY

As Spartanburg continues to recover from the pandemic, The Spartanburg County Foundation will continue to be led by its Northstar, acting as a philanthropic catalyst for positive community change. This is achieved through addressing needs identified through data, connecting resources to promising practices, and working hand in hand with the community to produce lasting results that improve the quality of life of residents.

The Foundation remains steady in its commitment to facilitate conversations, embrace technology, and adapt quickly to the needs of the community as we emerge into post-COVID recovery.

Honoring Dr. Gloria Close

The Spartanburg County Foundation is fortunate to work with amazing organizations, donors, and community leaders. Dr. Gloria Close is one such leader who's passionate work highlighting and addressing the needs of the under-served in the community has left a lasting impact on Spartanburg. Dr. Close is celebrating her retirement after decades of service to the community and as the leader of Foundation initiative, Citizen Scholars, we honor and celebrate her amazing accomplishments.

DR. CLOSE'S LEGACY

Growing up in rural North Carolina, Dr. Gloria Webb Close was among the first generation of her family to attend college. Dr. Close's dedication to her education led her to graduate from UNC-Chapel Hill, North Carolina State, and attend Harvard University's Management Development Program.

Dr. Close's passion for education and community service has had a profound impact on Spartanburg's youth. Her role as Executive Director of Citizen Scholars, an initiative of The Spartanburg County Foundation that provides deserving youth with mentoring and program support designed to help college attainment, has impacted hundreds of students in every school district in Spartanburg county.

During her tenure as Executive Director, Dr. Close has continued the program's vision and mission: "To provide disadvantaged youth, through mentoring and program support, with the life skills, knowledge, and character development needed to obtain college scholarships, complete college, and become contributing citizens."

Dr. Close relates to the underprivileged students, drawing on her own experiences of growing up in poverty, while her warm and compassionate personality helps them feel accepted and appreciated. This unique ability allowed her to grow the Citizen Scholars initiative from 59 students to 300 students per year across all seven school districts.

WORKING WITH C.A.S.T.

Beyond her involvement with Citizen Scholars, Dr. Close is also the founder of C.A.S.T. (Care, Accept, Share, Teach). This program aims to alleviate poverty by facilitating self-sufficiency. She calls the program "an initiative for the forgotten." She was aware of families living permanently in motels around the country, but it was not until she saw it firsthand as an educator in Spartanburg that she felt she needed to take action locally.

C.A.S.T. provides families with groceries and meals, offers a three-week educational summer camp for children, and assists parents in finding employment and affordable housing. In recognition of her work with C.A.S.T., Dr. Close was the recipient of the 2017 Mary L. Thomas Award for Civic Leadership and Community Change by The Spartanburg County Foundation.

"Now I feel more hopeful for the future, for my kids especially... I see a brighter future for them now."

Pauline Morrison

A woman helped by Dr. Close and C.A.S.T

Dr. Close's work with C.A.S.T., Citizen Scholars, and many other organizations has had a profound impact on Spartanburg. After decades of giving back, The Spartanburg County Foundation congratulates Dr. Close on her well-deserved retirement. She plans to enjoy this new chapter by spending more time with her husband of 43 years, Lee, their two children, two in-law children, and five amazing grandchildren.

"For almost 80 years, The Spartanburg County Foundation continues to be the beacon of light guiding philanthropy in Spartanburg, especially during the global health crisis that we all experienced in 2020. Our 7 trustees and staff guided our local philanthropic impact to help our community weather this 100-year storm. Thank you for all of your efforts!"

Andy Falatok

Trustee Emeritus

"When we are faced with helping our communities, families, and children in need, The Spartanburg County Foundation is not only known for "Responding to the Call". It is one of the first calls we make to ask for guidance, help, and assistance, especially during the pandemic. Not only this year, but over many years, I have responded to a need or a request for assistance by immediately using the phrase, "Let me call The Spartanburg County Foundation. I know they will help!" I can assure you, The Spartanburg County Foundation has always provided the help and assistance we need. They are a vital part of our success and a true partner in our school community."

Dr. Darryl Owings

Superintendent, Spartanburg County School District 6

"As an alumni of the Grassroots Leadership Alumni Association and as a citizen, volunteering in the community flu vaccine was my Responding to the Call, supporting the Foundation in ensuring that the community get the vaccine while maintaining safety as a priority. The innovated "drive through" flu vaccine approach reinforced the Foundation's commitment to affect positive community change, especially during the pandemic. I am blessed that The Spartanburg County Foundation made this possible for both the community and the Alumni Association."

Pa Vang

Alumna, Grassroots Leadership Alumni Association

"In our cherished Jewish book of wisdom, The Ethics of our Fathers, it is written, "In a place where there are few decent men, strive to be a human being!" What a gift The Spartanburg County Foundation is to our community, helping bind together those of different faiths and beliefs for understanding and charity. How grateful we are in these times of struggle for the light they have brought, and which continues to foster our common humanity!"

Charitable Gift Annuities

When you contribute assets to the Foundation in the form of a Charitable Gift Annuity, the annuity simultaneously provides a charitable donation, a partial income tax deduction for the donation, and a guaranteed lifetime income stream for you and sometimes a spouse or other beneficiary.

Annuity 1K (1992)

Annuity 1O (2003)

Charitable Remainder Unitrust

A Charitable Remainder Unitrust (also called a CRUT) is an estate planning tool that provides income to the donor during the donor's life and then the remainder of the trust to the Foundation. You or members of your family are usually the initial beneficiaries. The trust provides variable income for life and is based on a percentage of the fair market value of the assets in the trust.

“The Spartanburg County Foundation is held in high regard across the country for good reason. It was borne of local giving from a very generous community and has, and continues to be, a great partner to SRHS in eliminating disparities in our community. The addition of the Center for Philanthropy is yet another crowning achievement and will serve to strengthen hundreds of not-for-profit organizations across our community. We are rightfully proud of The Spartanburg County Foundation and the Center of Philanthropy and applaud their noble and necessary work.”

“In Spartanburg County, we see the benefits of strong community partnerships each day. Certainly, our collective response to COVID-19 has strengthened those bonds as we faced an extraordinary challenge together. Throughout this pandemic, The Spartanburg County Foundation has been a valued community partner, both in expanding COVID-19 testing opportunities and in offering flu vaccinations. Spartanburg Regional is grateful for The Spartanburg County Foundation’s continued leadership in addressing critical needs in our community.”

"In the past year the Spartanburg community, as well as the rest of the world, has been faced with insurmountable challenges. However, The Spartanburg County Foundation has given the people of Spartanburg the opportunity to communicate with each other through workshops, speakers and programs that focused on the struggles that we face day to day in our lives. The programs and workshops concentrated on differences in religion, ethnicity, and political ideology. The speakers brought inspirational messages that challenged our minds. Through interaction with our faith community, we are learning the way of hope and love and how important this is in our daily lives. All of these activities have encouraged us to listen to each other and to have respect for our differences."

"Despite the many challenges of 2020, The Spartanburg County Foundation pressed into the work, adapting, and creating anew to continue strengthening the community. Opening the Center for Philanthropy, stepping into tough conversations, elevating voices, and building strong partnerships, the foundation is setting an example for foundations across the country to re-imagine trust based, inclusive philanthropy. The Dorothy A. Johnson Center for Philanthropy is proud to be a partner in responding to the call."

Seventh-Year Trustee Reflection

We've heard it repeatedly and no doubt will continue to: 2020 was a year like no other (and hopefully, will never be repeated!).

Regardless of your race, creed, sex, etc., COVID-19 provided a myriad of challenges for everyone and a boatload of misery for many. Fortunately, as is often the case, this big dark cloud has its share of silver linings, which I'm happy to say, includes The Spartanburg County Foundation and all of the people the Foundation represents.

The generosity of the Foundation's donors along with the response of the Foundation's leadership gave hope as well as practical guidance and assistance particularly to our community's hard-working non-profits, many of whose very existence was threatened by COVID-19. The Foundation's rapid conversion from in person to virtual operations kept day-to-day functions essentially normal while the establishment of the Disaster Relief Fund and an emergency shift in our annual granting strategy allowed us to help sustain non-profits whose work is essential, yet whose ability to thrive was threatened by COVID-19.

Of course, all of this work was possible thanks to the remarkable generosity of the Foundation's donors whose additional individual gifts provided even more help and hope. As we continue to emerge from beneath the COVID-19 cloud, I am profoundly grateful for the many generous people in our community for their continuing concern and care for improving the quality of life for all Spartanburg County residents.

You have indeed "Responded to the Call!"
